

Dressing for Dogsledding is Easy!

Staying warm & cozy on your Wintergreen dogsled trip is no problem! We are the winter comfort experts. We'll make sure you've got exactly what you need. You probably already have much of that like sweaters, socks & hats. The Wintergreen Northern Wear store in Ely will help you with items you don't have. Small items like long underwear & mitts are available for purchase. Big items like parkas, snow pants, and snow boots can be rented so that you don't need to buy expensive gear. We can guide you in gathering your gear. Feel free to contact staff at info@WintergreenNorthernWear.com or 218-365-6602. Use the enclosed white form to reserve any items you may need to purchase or rent. We'll have them waiting for you when you arrive in Ely. Then at your lodge, your dogsled guides will double check your gear. We'll make sure you're warm & cozy so you can enjoy your trip to the max!

Rental items: The key to winter comfort is having insulating layers that hold body warmth, plus outer shell layers that shed snow. Parkas combine insulating and shell layers in one garment. They work okay, but we recommend the flexibility of having separate insulating and shell garments so that you can adjust your clothing as needed to stay warm & dry. That's why the Wintergreen rental parkas (called "anoraks") and snow pants are offered in both shell and fleece (insulating) layers. We can advise you whether you'll want to rent one or both layers, depending upon what you already have.

Our snow boots have rubber lowers, leather or nylon high-top uppers and removable insulating liners for ease of drying. Renting all items (anorak & pants layers, boots & shell mitts) at package discount rates is $150 per adult for multi-day trips ($65 for day trips) and $80 for kids ($45 for day trips). But you may only need some items: last year about half our guests rented gear & they spent an average of $75/adult in rental for multi-day trips.

Purchase items: Here are your 20% guest discount prices for items you may need to buy: Long Underwear Tops & Bottoms ($38 each in adult sizes, $23 each kids sizes), thin Liner Socks ($14 adults, $6 kids), thick Insulating Socks ($18 adults, $11 kids), Liner Gloves ($13 adults), super-warm Wintergreen Shell Overmitts for adults ($63) + Wool Liner Mitts ($26), Kids Mittens ($47, with shell & liner combined), and Wintergreen Shell Hat ($53 adults, $36 kids). You may only need some of these items: last year's guests who needed to buy gear spent about $80/adult. A 'package purchase' offers you an additional discount.

The Bottom Line: Review our detailed clothing suggestions on the next page. Then gather any clothing items you've already got that you think might work & reserve with us items you may still need. When you arrive in Ely, our store staff and our guides can review what you've brought and help you decide which of the rental/purchase items you've reserved are actually needed.

Keep in mind that:

- Day trip needs are not as critical as multi-day needs (i.e., day trippers don't need extra items)
- Lodge-based trip needs are not as critical as camping trip needs.
- Early & late season trips (pre-Xmas & March) often have balmer temps than mid-winter trips.

Clothing Checklist for your Wintergreen Dogsled Trip

Key items—parka, snow pants, boots—can be rented from Wintergreen Northern Wear in Ely, 218-365-6022, info@WintergreenNorthernWear.com. Smaller items which can't be rented (mitts, hats, socks, camp booties, thermalwear) can be purchased from Wintergreen. Not sure if what you already have will work? Call us for advice. When you arrive in Ely, our staff will check your gear to ensure you'll be warm & cozy on your dogsled trip. Feel free to pack your clothing in any style luggage, duffel bags, backpacks, etc.

___ Warm jacket or parka (available for RENT from Wintergreen Northern Wear)

What works best: a long, roomy, hooded shell jacket or anorak that can be slipped on or off over an insulating jacket or anorak depending upon conditions. A warm parka or snowmobile suit (which combines shell & insulating layer) also works but is not as versatile for layering. For camping trips, a stowable "puffy" jacket (down or synthetic insulation) are key for an extra comfort layer around camp.

What doesn't work: short-waisted or tight-fitting sports jackets (too cold), fur coats (distracts the dogs!), canvas coats (they get damp), wool coats (they don't shed snow as well)

___ Warm pants (available for RENT from Wintergreen Northern Wear)

What works best: shell pants layered over fleece pants as needed, insulated ski pants

What doesn't work: wool, canvas or cotton pants (they collect snow)

___ Boots (warm feet are key to a fun trip – be sure to have adequate boots! (RENT from Wintergreen)

What works best: "Sorel-type" snow boots with a rubber lower, leather or nylon upper and removable foam or felt liners. The boots should be rated to at least -20 F. Well insulated boots WITHOUT removable liners may be adequate for lodge-based trips but NOT for camping trips. Extra liners are handy for lodge-based trips and are essential for camping trips. Extra liners are provided with rental boots for camping.

What doesn't work: leather hunting boots, low-top boots, boots that don't repel snow and moisture, any boot without at least a half-inch of insulation, tight boots (Remember, your feet swell one whole shoe size during activity so test your fit. Your boot should slide easily over your foot with 2 pairs of socks on.)

___ Long Underwear (one or 2 pair of tops & bottoms, medium or heavy weight) (BUY from Wintergreen)

What works best: Choose synthetic thermalwear like Power Dry, Calamai, Varitherm, Capiline, or Thermax that wick moisture away from your skin to keep you dry. Silk thermalwear is okay.

What doesn't work: cotton "waffle" long-johns absorb moisture and keep you damp.

___ Extra tops (one or more of the following)

What works: fleece sweater or jacket; wool sweater or shirt; vest; turtleneck, any warm top!

___ Headwear (bring a thin and thick hat option and a neck gaiter or ear band) (BUY from Wintergreen)

What's works best: an insulating shell hat with sun visor plus a thin knit hat and a neck gaiter is ideal, although a thin and thick hat plus a scarf will suffice.

___ Handwear (one or more pair liner gloves plus warm mittens – don't scrimp!) (BUY from Wintergreen)

What works best: wool blend or fleece mittens large enough so synthetic liners gloves can be worn under them (liner gloves allow you to take off your mitts for dexterity), PLUS shell overmitts for camping trips

What doesn't work: leather "driving"-type gloves, cotton gloves, tight mittens

___ Socks What works best: two pair insulating socks + two pair liner socks (BUY from Wintergreen)

What doesn't work: cotton socks

___ Basic underwear (enough to keep you happy throughout your trip)

___ Sunglasses. Polarized ones with a neck strap work well. Ski goggles are okay but not necessary.

___ Flashlight. The smaller, the better. A headlamp (plus extra batteries) is essential for camping trips.

___ Swimsuit for saunas. (An optional sauna night is offered on most Wintergreen trips.)

___ Toiletries. Wind cream, lip balm, toothbrush & paste, personal meds (2 sets are best). Towels & wash cloths are available at lodges, but for camping trips bring a small hand or pack towel for trail hygiene.

___ Face masks, hand sanitizer and/or sanitizing "handi-wipes" in pocket-size packets for ready access.

___ MISC: Digital &/or video camera, notebook/pencil, Hand &/or toe warmers (or BUY at Wintergreen)

ADDITIONAL ITEMS FOR CAMPING TRIPS ONLY:

___ essential: Daypack or Fanny pack to keep snacks, water bottles, extra mitts & hat handy during day ___ recommended: Extra pair of boot liners, headlamp, 'puffy jacket,' shell overmitts (as noted above)

___ optional: pocket knife or leatherman, extra headlamp and/or batteries ___ optional: Camp Booties, great for camp and in sleeping bag. BUY at: www.rei.com/c/camp-booties CAMPERS: Organize your gear in 2-3 stuff sacks. We'll issue you a duffel bag to stow your gear in sleds.
